An illustration of a road construction site. A two-lane road with white dashed lines leads towards a large, dark, jagged pothole in the center. In the foreground, a construction barrier with orange and white diagonal stripes and two flashing orange lights blocks the road. To the right of the road, a yellow rectangular sign on two posts reads "DETOUR" followed by a right-pointing arrow. The background features rolling green hills under a blue sky with a few white clouds.
